Exxon Mobil Bloodborne Pathogen (BBP) Crisis Project: Emergently (12 hours) created and managed a comprehensive corporate medicine response to hundreds of XOM employees potentially exposed to BBPs through contaminated influenza vaccine injection cross-shared needles – through lectures, written materials, and project-specific website launch (all over a 48hr. period).

Then organized proper arms-length (from company) mass BBP lab screening and follow-up counseling on positive reports over the subsequent 3 months. As a result, employee panic was avoided and there were no lawsuits, to our knowledge, against the company for medical or personal-injury negligence. BBP positives were handled optimally without implication of the company (since there was no XOM causation established due to methodology set-up by Dr. Rensimer).
